

HUGO — Two Hugo residents, Rodney Romane Cox and Nina L. Mosley, were charged recently with unlawful possession of controlled drug with intent to distribute, unlawful use of a police radio, unlawful possession of a controlled drug and unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia.

On Nov. 3, Hugo Police officers served a search warrant at a home in the 900 block of North H Street. During the search, officers found a clear, plastic baggy containing seven additional bags that held a white, rock-like substance that later field tested positive for cocaine, officers reports said. Also found was a clear bag that contained marijuana.

Police reports stated that $1,123, in Cox's possession, was also seized along with other dominions and control items.

Cox was previously charged in March of 2005 with possession of controlled dangerous substance with intent to distribute, maintaining a place where CDS is kept, used or sold, conspiracy and possession of controlled dangerous substance. Reports said that Cox received a five year, all but 90 day suspended sentence on count one and a five year suspended sentence on the remaining.

In April of 1998, Cox was also charged with possession of contraband by an inmate and possession of marijuana. He received a five year suspended sentence per count and had 30 days of county jail revoked.
