The Family Readiness Group, partnered with Mays Home Health and Hugo and Antlers Providence, as well as its sisters offices in Antlers, Madill, Durant and Ada, decided to have a stocking drive for Tanner Watts and his Battalion, who were deployed to Afghanistan on Oct. 5.

After sending letters of suggested supplies to many different contacts, a flood of candy, books, movies, coffee and games had been received, along with boxes of other goodies like tooth brushes, razors, etc.

The goal of 25 stockings was quickly surpassed and 48 regular stockings and four giant stockings will be sent to the troops in Afghanistan.
