The Fort Towson Lady Tigers softball team is going to the state tournament. Fort Towson superintendent Jason Price told the girls he'd let them give him a mohawk if they made it. As you can see (picture available with subscription to online edition) Price is a man of his word.