

HUGO — Jack Norris of Hugo has been elected to a three-year term on the Kiamichi Conservation District Board of Directors by the Oklahoma Conservation Commission, according to Mike Thralls, executive Director of the Oklahoma Conservation Commission. Norris was the only person who filed a notification and declaration of candidacy for this position. He is one of five members who serve on the Board of Directors. The district office is located in Hugo.